Our program offers a comprehensive perspective on environmental and sustainability matters:

- Within the framework of the Erasmus program, we will conduct seminars, workshops, and lectures in various fields such as Climate Change, Environmental Economics and Policy, Ecology and Sustainable Development, Global Environmental Issues, Alternative and Sustainable Energy, Environmental Technologies, Green Construction and Sustainable Improvement, The Role of Education and Public Awareness in Sustainable Development, Green Finance, and Sustainable Finance, in collaboration with professors and students from across Europe.

- In partnership with the business sector, we will introduce and raise awareness about the environmental and sustainability efforts of companies through seminars and workshops, thereby fostering consciousness among students.

- In the realm of green transportation, we are collaborating with eco-friendly car, scooter, and bicycle companies to showcase environmentally friendly vehicles in our university's open parking area, emphasizing the importance of eco-conscious transportation to high school and university students.

- We will encourage university and high school students to devise solutions to issues related to renewable energy, waste reduction, sustainability awareness, climate change, and environmental responsibility by organizing environmental and sustainability-themed competitions.

- Our Environmental and Sustainability Club, established by environmentally conscious students, will organize a myriad of vibrant and original activities aimed at raising awareness, including bicycle tours for environmental and health causes, green area cleanups, music and arts performances, and team sports.

- To achieve the objectives of the International Environmental and Sustainability Week, we aspire to have approximately 2,000 students from Warsaw's high schools participate in the event, in addition to our university's 7,000 students, alongside students from other universities.

We look forward to hosting you at Vistula.

Kind regards,
